Successively click on CS281 Class Information, and HomeWork. Since I am making up these problems, there could be corrections or clarifications during the week; I will post these here as well.

Recall that you are permitted to discuss the material in the text book and the lectures with other students, but that you are not permitted to discuss the solutions of Home Work problems with others or copy their solutions. You are also responsible for ensuring that other students do not copy your solutions.
