

*‘Graduate education
at Old Dominion
University is the best career move I ever made.’*

MICHAEL L. NELSON was working for NASA when he decided to pursue master’s and doctoral degrees in computer science at Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Virginia. As an ODU faculty member since 2002, he has won more than $2.5 million in research support from the National Science Foundation, NASA, the Library of Congress and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. His latest project, “Self-Preserving Digital Objects,” is supported by more than $500,000 from the NSF’s Early Career Development program.
